Resource List for Horse Show Photographers

A wonderful talent many of us would love to have but few acquire. Many successful photographers seem to have a knack for "when" to snap the shutter on the camera to capture that "perfect" shot of an owner's beloved horse. Many photographers also charge a mileage fee as well as a show fee, so try to get one in close proximity to the show. Some only do indoor shows. Many book their shows a year in advance, so don't give up if you don't make successful contact with a photographer those first few tries. A photographer is not necessary at a show, but having one will greatly enhance your show to the owners and trainers you want to come to your horse show. They can be a valuable advertising tool!
